Chicago Parent is an award-winning parenting news magazine for families. You'll find advice on health, parenting and nutrition, the latest news, parent-written columns, and a calendar of events. The three times a year Going Places magazine is filled with kid-friendly things to do. Chicago Special Parent is an empowerment guide for parents of children with special needs and provides inspirational stories, the latest research, resources and parent advice. Find more than 30 bloggers on parenting at ChicagoParent.com along with more to do to have fun with your kids. Health is for everyone. Our educational programs include an annual high school essay and poster contest, the Promoting Mental Health in the Schools Continuing Education series and several community presentations on a variety of mental health topics.
