Advocate Congregational Health Partnerships works with faith communities to promote the health and well-being of their members and the communities they serve. We partner with UIC's Office for Community Engagement and Neighborhood Health Partnerships to support The Center for Faith and Community Health Transformation. The Center builds collaborations across faith-based and community partners to advance health equity by building community, nurturing leaders and connecting the unique spirit power of faith communities to promote social justice and abundant life for individuals, families and communities. The Center, along with other partners, has been convening the Trauma Informed Congregations Network to support faith communities in their role as places that foster resilience and healing for their members and the people that they serve.

Elyssa's Mission® is a 501(c)(3) non-profit that provides resources to help prevent teen suicide. The community-based organization was founded in 2006 in honor of Elyssa, a bright, gifted and outgoing Chicagoland girl who bravely battled post-traumatic stress disorder and depression. Elyssa's Mission® provides hands-on support to area public and private schools and community organizations in order to educate students, staff and parents on how to recognize and assist those teens most at-risk. We have helped educate over 100,000 students since inception. Elyssa's Mission® funds and implements the evidence-based SOS Signs of Suicide® Prevention Program in over 90 middle and high schools in Illinois through our partnership with Screening for Mental Health®

Erika's Lighthouse: A Beacon of Hope for Adolescent Depression*Telephone: 847.386.6481*Website: www.erikalighthouse.org

Erika's Lighthouse is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to educating, advocating and raising awareness about childhood and adolescent depression. Founded in June 2004, our mission is to "shed light on adolescent depression" through understanding, early identification, education and, most of all, stigma busting. We offer free of charge, a variety of programs, materials and activities designed to help teens in middle school and high school, their parents, teachers and mental health professionals identify depression and the behaviors that can lead to suicide. Our program philosophy and educational focus is rooted in the belief that depression education is the most promising approach to preventing teen suicide and is the first step in talking about other mental illnesses.

Website: www.missd.com

The Medication-Induced Suicide Prevention and Education Foundation in Memory of Stewart Dolin (MISSD) is a non-profit organization dedicated to raising awareness and educating the public about the dangers and side effects that can be associated with taking medication, including Selective Serotonin Reuptake Inhibitors (SSRI's). These dangers include akathisia and other medication-induced reactions that can lead to suicidal thoughts and/or actions. MISSD's mission is to ensure that people suffering from these symptoms are accurately diagnosed and monitored, so that needless deaths are prevented. MISSD is not an anti-drug organization -- rather we look to inform people about potential side effects and encourage better monitoring of patients who have recently started, stopped or changed dosage of a medication that may cause these side effects.

Rebecca's Dream is a charitable foundation fueled by the dream of Rebecca Cutler – to help others receive the encouragement, hope, and support they need to cope with mental illness and live fulfilling lives. The mission of Rebecca's Dream is “to promote awareness and compassionate understanding of depression and bipolar disorder as real diseases.” The primary goal of Rebecca's

Dream is to reduce the stigma of mental illness through education. As people understand the real facts about mental illness, they are better able to appreciate what their family or friends who suffer from depression or bipolar disorder are experiencing. Knowledge is power. Since 2005, Rebecca's Dream has created, sponsored, and supported various programs – from teen suicide prevention to demonstrations with collaborative theatrical partners – achieving our primary objective of education and compassionate understanding of mental illness.

Weinstein and Piser Funeral Home
Website: www.weinsteinandpiserfuneralhome.com

Weinstein Brothers was founded in the 1890's by Louis and Jacob Weinstein. Shortly thereafter Louis' son, Myron Weinstein, joined the company. In 1937, Myron began expanding the business, opening another funeral home on Devon Avenue. The business continued to grow. In 1970, Myron and his son, Joel, expended further by opening a state of the art location in the north shore suburb of Wilmette. By 1979, they opened their first location in southern Florida. With a tradition of compassion and the highest standards of service, Weinstein Funeral Home continues to serve the Chicagoland Jewish Community "the way it has always been." Since 1916, when Sam Piser first offered funeral care, the tradition of the professional funeral director has been to be honest, caring and community minded. Over the years with the addition of Gratch Mandel, Hartman & Miller, and Furth Funeral Homes, Piser Memorial Chapels grew to become the pre-eminent funeral provider serving the Chicagoland Jewish Community. Still today, Alan M. Yaffe (third generation) continues to uphold these traditions so vital to the Jewish People of Chicago.
